Hey Band!

It's our seventh game tonight!!! I hope you all felt confident about your show at the Battle at the Berry Invitational! You are all working so hard to perfect your show and have to keep pushing! Each performance always fix one more problem! This week has been very successful! I am so proud of you band and all you have accomplished! Even though we are all exhausted after just performing our show already we still have to keep pushing forward and improving our show each time we perform! I am so proud of you all! Keep pushing forward! Now let's cheer our team to victory by keeping the energy up high tonight! Remember to have fun and enjoy yourselves! These games go by before you know it! Now go out there and perform your show with pride and go kick some brass and take names!

-Your Head Drum Major,

Timothy Xenakis

Hey Band!

October is Now! (If you haven't figured that out already) All of you have finished Battle at the Berry by now, and there is still a lot to do tonight. So have fun at the stands. Once halftime hits, I want all of you to stay focus with a purpose! All of you are the best students in this school, so do not think you cannot deal with another show. Don't let the "Spring Woods Syndrome" of "I don't want to" or "I don't feel like doing it" hit you. Those are just excuses that won't help you in the future, because you are all successful students and are way better than the kids you see at school. All of you lead and represent this school. So, be proud of this great distinction you have and show me tonight and for the week to come that you are willing to show everyone else in this school and district that we are the best band here no matter what. You are all awesome!!!

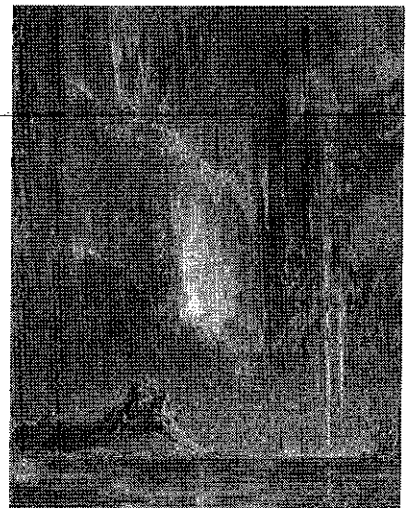

"Ambition is the path to success. Persistence is the vehicle you arrive in."

Hey Band!!!

We need to have a better performance than what we had at the competition! The show has to be better with every run we have, because ULL is literally next week. Every practice needs to be constructive towards the show, so keep up the hard work!!! But don't forget to have fun at the games!

Sax Ralf

>Mfw I just told saxes not to play in the stands and five mins' later I hear one playing Careless Whispers.

Hay Saxes, President WBJ here. Just wanna say y'all have been doing a good job and im proud of yall. How far we have come as a section. ~~But we still have our things that we need to look out for is interval and be~~ sure to play louder and in time. Oh and in the stands DO NOT play unless we are playing a stand tune or tuning. Two Strikes and you are on report. And no more Careless Whispers, i'm sorry but we are sick of it, but I can already hear yall playing "Who can it be Now" and fixing your withdrawal with that. Good luck to all of yall at Battle of the...Bari. Ayy lmao

Hey trumpets ! Well guys I can't described how proud I am of all you guys from the prop guys all over to my upperclassmen ones. All of you have been working pretty hard this week with school,practices, and many other things . Guys , that is why band is here ! Band teaches you so many lessons that you will carry on through you life . I believe there is great potential inside all of y'all . We have to still come in to this rehearsals because U.I.L is not far anymore . We have to start engaging more into the practices , focusing , putting in effort and having consistency ! You can do this ! Now since everyone knows DCI(Drum Corp International) is my favorite thing to watch everyday , and yes I am a total band nerd . Here are some corps that go with you , P.S If you don't get it , then go to youtube and search your corresponding corp ! Enjoy

Hey guys! ↓

You got this! Relax have fun. Leave it all on the field. When you step on that field there is only ONE GOAL!

To be the BEST!

That field is home. So give it your all!
